

Position Vacancy
Director of Clinical Services in Audiology

The School of Audiology and Speech-Language Pathology at The University of Memphis is looking for a skilled, innovative doctoral-level audiologist with a strong clinical background who would like to work in a stimulating academic setting and direct clinical audiology services and practica. This position is a twelve-month, non tenure-track line and the individual who applies should have administrative experience.

Qualifications:

- Doctoral degree
- CCC-A
- Eligible for Tennessee state licensure
- Minimum of four years of clinical experience
- Experience as a clinical educator
- Experience in clinical administration desired

Administrative Responsibilities:

- Coordinate clinical education of Au.D. students
- Coordinate on- and off-site clinical practicum
- Facilitate professional development of clinical faculty
- Service to School
- Supervision of graduate student practicum

Clinical Rank: Clinical Assistant or Associate Professor

Salary: Dependent upon qualifications and experience

Review of applications will begin February 1, 2008 and may continue until the position is filled.

Send Cover Letter, Vita, Transcripts, and Three Letters of Recommendation to:

Lisa Lucks Mendel, Ph.D., CCC-A, Chair, Search Committee
Memphis Speech and Hearing Center
807 Jefferson Avenue
Memphis, TN 38105
(901) 678-5865      Voice
(901) 525-1282      Fax
lmendel@memphis.edu

The University of Memphis is an Equal Employment Opportunity Employer. We urge all qualified applicants, especially males and ethnic minorities, to apply for this position. Successful candidates must meet immigration and reform act criteria. Appointments will be based on qualifications as they relate to position requirements without regard to race, color, national origin, gender, age, disability or veteran status.